Suggested Lesson Procedure:

First, explain the difference in a VO (voiceover), which (voiceover + location video) and first (voice) story. Make sure they watch the video below to highlight the differences and their examples.

Explain students to use any or all of the facts and quotes provided to write each type of story. Stories should start with some kind of hook that includes the most relevant and important information first. Sentences need to be short and conversational.

Remind students that no two broadcast will write a story the exact same way, although there are certain details or pieces of information that would absolutely be included in a story (who, what, where, when, why).

When students are finished, you can have them read their stories aloud as they would be read in a broadcast or switch stories for peer reviews (or both).

If you have any questions or issues, please reach out and let me know!
