9 11 As A Collective Trauma And Other Essays On Psychoanalysis And Society:

9/11 as a Collective Trauma Hans-Juergen Wirth, 2013-05-13 Hans Juergen Wirth a leading German psychoanalyst and editor of the journal Psychosozial brings cultural breadth historical perspective and analytic astuteness to bear in considering the collective trauma of 9 11 His meditation which brings into its compass the psychic structure of suicide bombers and the psycho political causes and consequences of the Iraq war is especially insightful in considering the psychological meaning of 9 11 for the world outside the U S In complementary forays into psyche and politics Wirth explores the relationship of xenophobia and violence the story of Jewish analysts who emigrated from Nazi Germany to the United States the idea of man in psychoanalysis and the family dynamics that sustain the AIDS phobia These wonderfully illuminating essays both cautionary and constructive show how clinical experience with the unconscious processes of violence traumatization and destructiveness can be foundational to new political strategies for dealing with collective violence Psychoanalysis, collective traumas and memory places Robert D Hinshelwood, et al., 2015-12-05 Psychoanalysis has always had to reckon with the epistemology of the witnessing of the analysand but perhaps it has only recently been reckoning with the discourse of the ethics of testimony Here I am is the answer addressed to those who call on us to testify And who are the people who have answered with a Here I am in this book dedicated to the places of the memory of Mediterranean civilisations and their discontents The reference to the work of the same name by Freud 1929 is clear here but what many of the authors and of the essays in it seem to have in common is the attention to the traumatic nature of certain places of the memory theatres of wars such as the wars in the Balkans at the centre of the contribution by N Janigro lines in the diary of a father who miraculously survived genocide that a daughter essayist J Altounian wrenches from oblivion or even non places of a memory in which the witnesses survivors are the many refugees who have fled their homelands As Bohleber writes psychoanalysis began as a theory of trauma In this book the places of the memory are often the rooms of analysis places of re evocation of collective traumas which have not always taken place historically along the shores of the Mediterranean Sea In some cases the victims of collective traumas undergone in the home Mediterranean countries take their dramas of migrants and refugees to analysts in the North of Europe as in the case of Varvin and Papadopoulos In other pieces neither the geographical origin of the analysand nor that of the analyst have apparently any connection with the Mediterranean We are referring to the essay by M Ritter and that of Halberstadt Freud however in them the consulting rooms are places of the memory in which the analyst reflects on the subject of trans generational transmission of collective guilt connected with Nazism and with the Shoah which also affected the history of Mediterranean countries In other contributions in this book the places of the memory are those of the Middle East caught up in the Israeli Palestinian conflict From different points of view three authors Y Gampel J Deutsch and H J Wirth speak to us of places of the memory where the collective traumas have not been assigned once and for all to the work of historians as in the case of the Shoah and of the other genocides of the 20th century as unfortunately they are still on going The Future of Prejudice David E. Scharff, Afaf Mahfouz, Stuart Twemlow, 2007-01-19 Established psychoanalytic psychodynamic researchers and theorists bring the exploration of prejudice to a new level by examining how psychoanalysis might elucidate strategies that will eliminate prejudice Concerning Consequences Kristine Stiles, 2016-03-21 Kristine Stiles has played a vital role in establishing trauma studies within the humanities A formidable force in the art world Stiles examines the significance of traumatic experiences both in the individual lives and works of artists and in contemporary international cultures since World War II In Concerning Consequences she considers some of the most notorious art of the second half of the twentieth century by artists who use their bodies to address destruction and violence The essays in this book focus primarily on performance art and photography From war and environmental pollution to racism and sexual assault Stiles analyzes the consequences of trauma as seen in the works of artists like Marina Abramovic Pope L and Chris Burden Assembling rich intellectual explorations on everything from Paleolithic paintings to the Bible's patriarchal legacies to documentary images of nuclear explosions Concerning Consequences explores how art can provide a distinctive means of understanding trauma and promote individual and collective healing Contemporary Psychoanalysis and the Legacy of the Third Reich Emily A. Kuriloff, 2013-08-15 This book traces the development of psychoanalysis in Europe the USA and Israel through the lens of the rise and fall of the Third Reich With Climate in Mind Sally Weintrobe, Lynne Zeavin, 2025-12-08 This groundbreaking book enriches and expands psychoanalytic theory and method as it applies to the climate It embeds psychoanalysis within environmental and cultural awareness restores the importance Freud placed on external reality and its mental representations introduces an integrative concept of climate and with its attention to clinical detail offers stepping stones for practitioners seeking to understand clinical material in which phantasies involving nature culture and family are intertwined Presented in four parts Clinical Theory Nature and Research its authors are psychoanalysts from across the world With Climate in Mind is essential reading for practising and training psychoanalysts for those in the psychotherapy profession and for other professionals engaged with what climate breakdown in a culture of carelessness means today History, Memory, Performance D. Dean, Y. Meerzon, K. Prince, 2014-12-04 History Memory Performance is an interdisciplinary collection of essays exploring performances of the past in a wide range of trans national and historical contexts At its core are contributions from theatre scholars and public historians discussing how historical meaning is shaped through performance Apocalyptic Postmodern Vision in the Select Novels of John Updike Dr. Zhao Yang, Ms. Long Na, 2023-01-06 John Updike's vision of life and American society is apocalyptic as he wrote novels to depict the present dilemmas of the Americans and the future challenges of the country and the global world He was also confronted with the riddle of life and existence like Dostoevsky and with a view to find the answers to the mysteries of life and truth he turned to Kierkegaard and Karl Barth who had evolved the dialectical method to explore reality and truth Barth's dialectical method was derived from Kierkegaard who believed that truth is not found in the operation of Hegel's method of thesis and anti thesis but rather in the dialectical tension between truth and truth Kierkegaard wrote Every truth is truth only to a certain degree when it goes beyond the counter point appears and it becomes untruth Kierkegaard Word of God and Word of Man 206 John Updike stated that the purpose of his writing novels and stories is to examine everything for God s fingerprints In the 1960 s when he started writing his name was associated with other writers such as John Barth Robert Coover and Thomas Pynchon busy in experimenting new themes and strategies Updike ignored the main stream of contemporary fiction and distanced himself from the contemporary writers His mission was to write a new kind of fiction to create a new kind of world to depict the new future of mankind the way Karl Marx had done The Faces of Terrorism

Neil J. Smelser, 2010-10-24 Terrorism is the most clear and present danger we confront today yet no phenomenon is more poorly understood by policymakers the media and the general public The Faces of Terrorism is the first serious interdisciplinary examination of terrorism in all its facets What gives rise to it who are its proponents and how do they think and how and why does it work Neil Smelser begins by tackling the fundamental problem of defining what exactly terrorism is He shows why a precise definition has eluded us until now and he proposes one that takes into account the full complexities of this unconventional and politically charged brand of violence He explores the root causes and conditions of terrorism and examines the ideologies that inspire and fuel it throughout the world Smelser looks closely at the terrorists themselves their recruitment their motivations the groups they form their intended audiences and their uses of the media in pursuing their agendas He studies the target societies as well unraveling the complicated social and psychological impacts of having to cope with the ever present threat of a terrorist strike and responding when one occurs He explains what it means to live under constant threat of terrorism and addresses the thorny domestic and foreign policy challenges this poses Throughout Smelser draws from the latest findings in sociology political science anthropology economics psychology psychiatry and history The Faces of Terrorism provides the breadth of scope necessary to understand and ultimately eliminate this most pressing global threat Homo Emotionalis Timm Beichelt, 2022-10-31 In this book important works and approaches of policy oriented emotion research are brought into a systematic context For this purpose three different types of emotions are elaborated which in their totality constitute Homo Emotionalis binary emotions basic emotions reflexive emotions They correspond to individual psychological stages of development but are also relevant in the social and political handling of emotions The interplay of emotion types and social constellations leads to different modes of political action which shape different forms of emotional politics In each case individual logics emerge along which emotional politics is pursued With its interdisciplinary focus this volume is aimed at political scientists anthropologists sociologists and social psychologists
