Bearing Witness Violence And Collective Responsibility:

Bearing Witness Sandra L. Bloom, Michael Reichert, 1998 Bearing Witness Violence and Collective Responsibility offers a unique layperson's introduction to the scope and causes of violence and trauma theory and suggests ways we can all work to attack these causes. Upon completing this work you will have a better understanding of the social causes of the violence epidemic and concrete suggestions for its long term control. Bearing Witness addresses the cycle of violence by discussing some of the biological, psychological, social and moral issues that go into determining whether a person will end up as a victim, perpetrator or bystander to violent events and what happens to us when we are in one or all three of these roles. The authors look at a number of intersecting factors that play interdependent roles in creating a culture that promotes supports and even encourages violence. Specifically you will gain invaluable insight into trauma theory and traumatogenic forces backdrops against which the chances of exposure to violence and the use of violence as a problem solver are increased, normal human development in the context of attachment theory and what occurs as a result of disrupted attachment bonds, how rapid changes in modern society and the breakdown of the traditional family structure contribute to a level of social stress that promotes violence in the family, in the workplace and in the schools, all places to which people turn for security, social responses to violence, the ways in which certain responses decrease or increase the likelihood of violence, the unhealthy balance of power between the genders and how violence or the threat of violence maintains this imbalance, how our cultural standard of disavowing our normal emotional experience sets the stage for repeated and regular empathic failure which leads to violence. A framework for understanding the various aspects of the problem of violence. Bearing Witness delves into the various aspects of trauma: what trauma does to the body, the mind, the emotions and relationships before beginning to formulate proposals for initiating processes that lead to problem solving. Once this knowledge base has been established, the authors give you the beginnings of an outline for reorganizing society with the aim of establishing a community that is responsive to the basic human need for safety and peace. Social Symptoms of Identity Needs Mark Bracher, 2018-04-17 Explains how our major social problems including crime, violence, terrorism, war, substance abuse and prejudice are the result of efforts by their perpetrators to maintain a secure identity or sense of self. It locates the root causes of these social problems and counterproductive responses in certain identity damaging social and cultural phenomena that force identity to defend and maintain itself by socially harmful means. Simple and Complex Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder Mary Beth Williams, John F. Responses to the Trauma of the French Revolution Katherine Astbury,2017-07-05 During the French Revolution traditional literary forms such as the sentimental novel and the moral tale dominate literary production At first glance it might seem that these texts are unaffected by the upheavals in France in fact they reveal not only a surprising engagement with politics but also an internalised emotional response to the turbulence of the period In this innovative and wide ranging study Katherine Astbury uses trauma theory as a way of exploring the apparent contradiction between the proliferation of non political literary texts and the events of the Revolution Through the narratives of established bestselling literary figures of the Ancien Regime primarily Marmontel Madame de Genlis and Florian and the early works of first generation Romantics Madame de Stael and Chateaubriand she traces how the Revolution shapes their writing providing an intriguing new angle on cultural production of the 1790s Katherine Astbury is Senior Lecturer in French Studies at the University of Warwick

Creating a Healing Society Susan Lawrence M D, Susan E. Lawrence, 2006 Dr Susan Lawrence s Creating a Healing Society program pioneers the recognition of the devastating impact of human emotional pain and trauma as the root cause of societal and world problems Without healthy support traumatized people unconsciously influenced by inner pain engage in self destructive or antisocial behaviors We are accustomed to thinking about the impact of trauma on the individual but rarely notice the dramatic effect that trauma has on our society The cumulative result of these pain driven behaviors can be seen in the epidemics of AIDS Hepatitis C drug addiction and alcoholism in our violent and crime ridden society in unemployment homelessness and poverty in the ongoing cycle of child abuse and neglect and on an international level in terrorism and war In Creating a Healing Society Dr Lawrence describes her work with alcoholics AIDS patients prisoners and others dying of what one of her clients calls the delayed effects of child abuse Through concrete examples she shows that people can turn their lives around and by doing so change the quality of our entire society
