More-than-One Health Irus Braverman, 2022-12-01 This edited volume examines the complex entanglements of human animal and environmental health It assembles leading scholars from the humanities social sciences natural sciences and medicine to explore existing One Health approaches and to envision a mode of health that is both more than human and also more sensitive to and explicit about colonial and neocolonial legacies urging the decolonization of One Health While acknowledging the importance of One Health the volume at the same time critically examines its roots highlighting the structural biases and power dynamics still at play in this global health regime The volume is distinctive in its geographic breadth It travels from Inuit sled dogs in the Arctic to rock hyraxes in Jerusalem from black faced spoonbills in Taiwan to street dogs in India from spittle bugs on Mallorca's almond trees to jellyfish management at sea and from rabies in sub-Saharan Africa to massive culling practices in South Korea Together the contributors call for One Health to move toward a more transparent plural and just perception of health that takes seriously the role of more than humans and of nonscientific knowledges pointing to ways in which One Health can and should be decolonized This volume will appeal to researchers and practitioners in the medical humanities posthumanities environmental humanities science and technology studies animal studies multispecies ethnography anthrozoology and critical public health The Open Access version of chapter 1 available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781003294085> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Funded by the Wellcome Trust
