L. Heathcote, 1983 Water Resources in the Arid Realm Clive Agnew, Ewan Anderson, 2024-04-03 Originally published in 1992 this book dispels some of the myths that surround water resource problems of arid lands and the notion that there are simple once and for all solutions Population growth industrialization environmental mismanagement and land degradation have led to droughts poverty and famine with the result that the need for space food and key natural resources such as water has become the most critical issue in global development Nowhere is this crisis more apparent than in arid lands where water resources provide the key to economic and environmental development. The authors argue that as the arid land environment is highly variable the key to success is flexibility. The book is divided into four sections dealing with the geography of the arid realm, the water resource problems they face, the methods available for enhancing water supplies and finally management of this resource. The book will be of use to undergraduate and postgraduate student and for those actively engaged in the development of arid land water resources. Arid Zone Geomorphology David S. G. Thomas, 2011-02-08. The new edition of Arid Zone Geomorphology aims to encapsulate the advances that have been made in recent years in the investigation and explanation of landforms and geomorphological processes in drylands. Building on the success of the previous two editions, the Third Edition has been completely revised and updated to reflect the latest developments in the field. Whilst this latest edition will remain a comprehensive reference to the subject, the book has been restructured to include regional case studies throughout to enhance student understanding and is clearly defined into five distinct sections. Firstly, the book introduces the reader to Large Scale Controls and Variability in Drylands and then moves on to consider Surface Processes and Characteristics, The Work of Water, The Work of the Wind. The book concludes with a section on Living with Dryland Geomorphology that includes a chapter on geomorphological hazards and the human impact on these environments. Once again, recognised world experts in the field have been invited to contribute chapters in order to present a comprehensive and up to date overview of current knowledge about the processes shaping the landscape of deserts and arid regions. In order to broaden the appeal of the Third Edition, the book has been reduced in extent by 100 pages and the Regional chapters have been omitted in favour of the inclusion of key regional case studies throughout the book. The Editor is also considering the inclusion of a supplementary website that could include further images, problems and case studies. Proceedings of the ... International Soil Correlation Meeting (ISCOM)., 1987. Proceedings of the Fourth International Soil Correlation Meeting (ISCOM) John M. Kimble, W. D.
