Archetypal Process Self Divine In:

The Archetypal Process David Griffin, 1989 Archetypal Process is a pioneering study linking the ideas of process philosophy as developed by Alfred North Whitehead and Charles Hartshorne with the archetypal psychology of C G Jung and James Hillman This is the first work to examine the interconnections of these two modes of thought Archetypal Process examines the importance of cosmological thinking and the need to ground archetypal psychology in a metaphysical philosophical framework It treats the necessity for symbol and myth the nature of the spirit and language as a metaphorical vehicle of thought and finally it adds a much needed feminist perspective to the debate A Process Spirituality Sheri D. Kling, 2020-07-08 American culture is in a state of critical fragmentation The author argues that we will solve neither the ecological crisis nor our social estrangement from each until we transform our perception of life as embodied and interconnected and rediscover what is sacred through transformative lived experiences of wholeness Using an embodied theological framework supported by comparative hermeneutical and constructive methodologies A Process Spirituality synthesizes theoretical empirical and practical resources to construct a hopeful and holistic understanding of God the world and the self Interweaving Alfred North Whitehead's vision of a relational cosmos with Carl Gustav Jung's integrated relational psyche and a powerful spiritual praxis of dream work creates a generative matrix through which to perceive a God world reality characterized by value relationality and transformation in which individuals matter belong and can experience positive change Such a Christian and transreligious vision of hope offers individuals the possibility and capacity to move from a state of fragmentation to one of psycho spiritual wholeness and flourishing C. G. Jung and the Alchemical Imagination Stanton Marlan, 2020-12-29 Winner of the 2021 American Board Academy of Psychoanalysis Annual Book Prize for Best Theoretical Book in Psychoanalysis Stanton Marlan brings together writings which span the course of his career examining Jungian psychology and the alchemical imagination as an opening to the mysteries of psyche and soul Several chapters describe a telos that aims at the mysterious goal of the Philosophers Stone a move replete with classical and postmodern ideas catalysed by prompts from the unconscious dreams images fantasies and paradoxical conundrums Psyche and matter are seen with regards to soul light and darkness in terms of illumination and order and chaos as linked in the image of chaosmos Marlan explores the richness of the alchemical ideas of Carl Jung James Hillman and others and their value for a revisioning of psychology In doing so this volume challenges any tendency to literalism and essentialism and contributes to an integration between Jung's classical vision of a psychology of alchemy and Hillman's Alchemical Psychology C G Jung and the Alchemical Imagination will be a valuable resource for academics scholars and students of Jungian and post Jungian studies Jungian analysis and psychotherapy It will also be of great interest to Jungian psychologists and Jungian analysts in practice and in training Awakening and Insight Polly Young-Eisendrath, Shoji Muramoto, 2003-09-02 Buddhism first came to the West many centuries ago through the Greeks who also influenced some of the culture and practices of Indian

Thomas Howe, 2003 Faithful to the Earth winner of the Bross Prize for Christian Scholarship that is awarded only once every 10 years goes way beyond contrasting the theist with the atheist J Thomas Howe argues that Alfred North Whitehead's understanding of God lays the foundation for a religious life strikingly similar to that described in Friedrich Nietzsche's tragic but affirmative philosophy
