focuses on the inclusion of empirical evidence as well as the contemporary issues and challenges currently facing formative assessment. The case studies bring to life strategies and approaches that utilise a combination of digital and material tools to promote a range of innovative formative assessment practices including facilitating dialogic formative assessment and supporting peer review and co production of feedback artefacts. Each case study is divided into the context behind it, the strategy, practice, impact and key learning outcomes, presenting a series of opportunities for practitioners to consider and embed in their practice. Aimed at experienced and early career practitioners in higher education as well as third space practitioners such as learning and educational developers and designers, this text is ideal reading for educators who wish to see evolution in higher education using the lessons learned from utilising educational technology to focus on student learning in increasingly digital environments.
