Creating Identity in the Victorian Fictional Autobiography Heidi L. Pennington, 2018-04-30 This is the first book length study of the fictional autobiography a subgenre that is at once widely recognizable and rarely examined as a literary form with its own history and dynamics of interpretation Heidi L Pennington shows that the narrative form and genre expectations associated with the fictional autobiography in the Victorian period engages readers in a sustained meditation on the fictional processes that construct selfhood both in and beyond the text Through close readings of Jane Eyre David Copperfield and other well known examples of the subgenre Pennington shows how the Victorian fictional autobiography subtly but persistently illustrates that all identities are fictions Despite the subgenre s radical implications regarding the nature of personal identity fictional autobiographies were popular in their own time and continue to inspire devotion in readers This study sheds new light on what makes this subgenre so compelling up to and including in the present historical moment of precipitous social and technological change As we continue to grapple with the existential question of what determines who we really are this book explores the risks and rewards of embracing conscious acts of fictional self production in an unstable world

Gandhi's Autobiographical Construction of Selfhood Clara Neary, 2023-03-15 This book addresses the topics of autobiography self representation and status as a writer in Mahatma Gandhi s autobiographical work The Story of My Experiments with Truth 1927 1929 Gandhi remains an elusive figure despite the volumes of literature written on him in the seven decades since his assassination Scholars and biographers alike agree that no work on his life has portrayed him in totality Desai 2009 and although arguably the most popular figure of the first half of the twentieth century and one of the most eminent luminaries of our time Gandhi the individual remains as much an enigma as a person of endless fascination Murrell 2008 Yet there has been relatively little scholarly engagement with Gandhi s autobiography and published output has largely been concerned with mining the text for its biographical details with little concern for how Gandhi represents himself The author addresses this gap in the literature while also considering Gandhi as a writer This book provides a close reading of the linguistic structure of the text with particular focus upon Gandhi s self representation drawing on a cognitive stylistic framework for analysing linguistic representations of selfhood Emmott 2002 It will be of interest to stylisticians cognitive linguists discourse analysts and scholars in related fields such as Indian literature and postcolonial studies
