A History Of Kilmainham Gaol The Dismal House Of Little Ease:

A History of Kilmainham Gaol Freida Kelly, 1988 The Wreck of the Neva: The Horrifying Fate of a Convict Ship and the Women Aboard Cal McCarthy, Kevin Todd, 2013-04-10 The Neva sailed from Cork on 8 January 1835 destined for the prisons of Botany Bay There were 240 people on board most of them either female convicts or the wives of already deported convicts and their children On 13 May 1835 the ship hit a reef just north of King s Island in Australia and sank with the loss of 224 lives one of the worst shipwrecks in maritime history The authors have comprehensively researched sources in Ireland Australia and the UK to reconstruct in fascinating detail the stories of these women Most perished beneath the ocean waves but for others the journey from their poverty stricken and criminal pasts continued towards hope of freedom and prosperity on the far side of the world At a time when Australia is once again becoming a new home for a generation of migrating Irish it is appropriate that the formative historical links between the two countries be remembered Charles Stewart Parnell and His Times N. C. Fleming, Alan O'Day, 2011-07-06 Charles Stewart Parnell 1846 1891 wrote remarkably little about himself but he has attracted the attention of many writers politicians and scholars both during his lifetime and ever since His controversial and provocative role in Irish and British affairs had him vilified as a murderer in The Times and afterwards dramatically vindicated by the Westminster Parliament It cast him as a romantic hero to the young James Joyce and a self serving opportunist to the journalists of the Nation Parnell has been the subject of court cases parliamentary enquiries and debates journalism plays poems literary analysis and historical studies For the first time all these have been collected catalogued and cross referenced in one volume an invaluable resource for scholars of late nineteenth century Ireland and Britain Divided into fifteen chapters including a biographical sketch the volume contains information on manuscript and archival collections printed primary sources Parnell s writing Parnell s speeches in the House of Commons and outside Parliament contemporary journalism contemporary writing and contemporary illustrations on Irish affairs and a substantial list of scholarly work including biographies books articles chapters and theses This volume offers readers a clear record of the substantial material already available on Parnell and in doing so offers resources to future research in this area

Public History in Ireland Leonie Hannan, Olwen Purdue, 2024-06-28 Through a collection of essays that reflect the complexity of the island s historical past as it operates today Public History in Ireland delivers a scholarly yet accessible introduction to contemporary topics and debates in Irish public history Despite the reputation that Ireland both north and south has gained as a place of contestation this is the first book length study to tackle its diverse and often difficult public histories Public History in Ireland offers examples drawn not only from museums heritage and collections prime mediators of public historical interpretation but also from the work of artists and academics It considers the silences in Ireland s history telling including those of the recent conflict in Northern Ireland and of the traumatic public discoveries and re evaluations of the island s institutions of social control The book s key message is that history is active making itself felt in ongoing debates about heritage identity nationhood post conflict society and reparative justice It shows that Irish public history is freighted and often fraught with jeopardy but as such it is rich with insight that has relevance far beyond this island s shores This book is useful for students scholars and practitioners working in the fields of public history and the history of Ireland Making Ireland Irish Eric G. E. Zuelow, 2009-03-01 From the dark shadow of civil war to the pastel painted towns of today Making Ireland Irish provides a sweeping account of the evolution of the Irish tourist industry over the twentieth century Drawing on an extensive array of previously untapped or underused sources Eric G E Zuelow examines how a small group of tourism advocates inspired by tourist development movements in countries such as France and Spain worked tirelessly to convince their Irish compatriots that tourism was the secret to Ireland s success Over time tourism went from being a national joke to a national interest Men and women from across Irish society joined in eager to help shape their country and culture for visitors eyes The result was Ireland as it is depicted today a land of blue skies smiling faces pastel towns natural beauty ancient history and timeless traditions With lucid prose and vivid detail Zuelow explains how careful planning transformed Irish towns and villages from grey and unattractive to bright and inviting sanitized Irish history to avoid offending Ireland s largest tourist market the English and supplanted traditional rural fairs revolving around muddy animals and featuring sexually suggestive ceremonies with new family friendly festivals and events filling today s tourist calendar By challenging existing notions that the Irish tourist product is either timeless or the consequence of colonialism Zuelow demonstrates that the development of tourist imagery and Irish national identity was not the result of a handful of elites or a postcolonial legacy but rather the product of an extended discussion that ultimately involved a broad cross section of society both inside and outside Ireland Tourism he argues played a vital role in making Ireland Irish Ancestry magazine , 1997-11 Ancestry magazine focuses on genealogy for today s family historian with tips for using Ancestry com advice from family history experts and success stories from genealogists across the globe Regular features include Found by Megan Smolenyak reader submitted heritage recipes Howard Wolinsky s tech driven NextGen feature articles a timeline how to tips for Family Tree Maker and insider insight to new tools and records at Ancestry com Ancestry magazine is published 6 times yearly by Ancestry Inc parent company of Ancestry com The Tempest Patrick M.
