Frank Jewett Mather presents a comprehensive exploration of the evolution of Italian painting from the medieval period through the Renaissance. Mather employs a clear analytical style blending rich descriptive language with critical insights, making it a significant contribution to art history literature. The book is contextualized within an era of burgeoning cultural scholarship in the early 20th century, characterized by a keen interest in the intersections of social, political, and aesthetic influences on the art of the Italian landscape. Frank Jewett Mather (1868–1953) was an eminent art historian and critic whose academic rigor was shaped by his extensive studies in Europe and his tenure at esteemed institutions including Princeton University. His immersion in the traditions and innovations of European art, coupled with a passion for teaching and writing, culminated in this seminal work. Mather's profound respect for the Italian masters guided his meticulous examination of their contributions, inspired by the transformative power of art in society. For aspiring artists, art historians, and enthusiasts of Italian culture alike, Mather's A History of Italian Painting is an indispensable resource that not only elucidates the developments in painting but also serves as an exploration of the cultural fabric of Italy itself. Dive into this work to gain a deeper appreciation for the masterpieces that define Italian artistry.

A History of Italian Painting Oliver Samuel Tonks, 1927 This book has been written to meet the needs of those who are beginning the study of Italian painting. These needs are very definite: clarity, continuity of thought, and the omission of all material that, although interesting to advanced students, is bound to be confusing to beginners. Preface

The History of Italian Painting Luigi Lanzi, 2021-05-07 This Lanzi's work features the history of painting in Italy from the period of the revival of the fine arts to the end of the 18th century. The method that the author applies in treating of each school is as follows: he first gives a general character of each school, then he distinguishes it into three, four, or more epochs according as its style underwent changes with the change of taste. A few celebrated painters who have swayed the public taste and given a new tone to the art are placed at the head of each epoch. He has also taken notice of some arts which are analogous to painting and though they differ from it in the materials employed or the manner of using them, may still be included in the art, for example, engraving of prints, inlaid and mosaic work, and embroidering tapestry. The author commences by treating in the two first volumes of that part of Italy which, through the genius of Da Vinci, Michelangelo, and Rafael, became first conspicuous and first exhibited a decided character in painting. Those artists were the ornaments of the Florentine and Roman schools, from which he proceeds to two others, the Sienese and Neapolitan. About the same time, Giorgione, Tiziano, and Correggio began to flourish in Italy, three artists who as much advanced the art of coloring as the former improved design and of these luminaries of Upper Italy are treated in the third and fourth volumes Then follows the school of Bologna in which the attempt was made to unite the excellences of all the other schools this commences the fifth volume and on account of proximity it is succeeded by that of Ferrara and Upper and Lower Romagna The school of Genoa which was late in acquiring celebrity succeeds and the book is concluded with that of Piedmont which though it cannot boast so long a succession of artists as those of the other states has merits sufficient to entitle it to a place in a history of painting
