A Long Long Day For November:

Ernest J. Gaines Karen Carmean, 1998-07-28 Drawing on his rich Louisiana past Ernest J Gaines creates a fictional world representative of the human experience His work explores the complex racial relationships so much a part of Southern history and culture and the unwritten and unspoken conventions of caste and class Often structured around journeys of discovery Gaines works affirm the integrity of the individual and the unequivocal place in American life for Americans of African descent This study offers a clear accessible reading of Gaines fiction It analyzes in turn all of Gaines novels as well as his collection of short stories A complete bibliography of Gaines fiction as well as selected reviews and criticism completes the study Following a biographical chapter on Gaines life an overview of his fiction explores his work in light of his literary heritage and use of genre Each of the following chapters examines an individual novel Catherine Carmier 1964 Of Love and Dust 1967 The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman 1971 In My Father's House 1978 A Gathering of Old Men 1983 A Lesson Before Dying 1994 and a collection of short stories Bloodline 1968 The discussion of each work includes sections on plot and character development thematic issues and an alternative critical approach from which to read the novel Carmean shows how each of Gaines novels focuses on themes of personal value and place and affirms the need for recognizing the value of the individual regardless of race This study will help readers to understand the compelling issue of human relationships raised by Gaines and to see why he is one of America's finest writers

November 1942 Peter Englund, 2025-08-26 The New York Times Book Review Editors Choice An intimate history of the most important month of World War II completely based on the diaries letters and memoirs of the people who lived through it At the beginning of November 1942 it looked as if the Axis powers could still win the Second World War at the end of that month it was obviously just a matter of time before they would lose In between were el Alamein Guadalcanal the French North Africa landings the Japanese retreat in New Guinea and the Soviet encirclement of the German 6th Army at Stalingrad It may have been the most important thirty days of the twentieth century In this hugely innovative and riveting history Peter Englund has reduced an epoch making event to its basic component the individual experience Englund's narrative is based solely on what he learned from the writings of soldiers and ordinary citizens alike They comprise a remarkable deeply personal resource In thirty memorable days among those we meet are a Soviet infantryman at Stalingrad an American pilot on Guadalcanal an Italian truck driver in the North African desert a partisan in the Belarussian forests a machine gunner in a British bomber a twelve year old girl in Shanghai a university student in Paris a housewife on Long Island a shipwrecked Chinese sailor a prisoner in Treblinka a Korean comfort woman in Mandalay Albert Camus Vasily Grossman and Vera Brittain forty characters in all In addition we experience the construction and launching of SS James Oglethorpe a Liberty ship built in Savannah the fate of U 604 a German submarine the building of the first nuclear reactor in Chicago and the making of Casablanca Not since the publication of the author's last book The Beauty and the Sorrow which similarly looked at the First World War have we had such a mesmerizing work of
