American Architects:

Great American Architects Series, 1895 American Architects and the Mechanics of Fame Roxanne Kuter Williamson, 2014-03-07

Why does one talented individual win lasting recognition in a particular field while another equally talented person does not? While there are many possible reasons, one obvious answer is that something more than talent is requisite to produce fame. The something more in the field of architecture asserts Roxanne Williamson is the association with a famous architect at the moment he or she first receives major publicity or designs the building for which he or she will eventually be celebrated. In this study of more than six hundred American architects who have achieved a place in architectural histories, Williamson finds that only a small minority do not fit the right person, right time pattern. She traces the apprenticeship connection in case studies of Louis Sullivan, Frank Lloyd Wright, Henry Hobson Richardson, the firm of McKim, Mead, White, Latrobe, and his descendants, the Bulfinch and Renwick Lines, the European immigrant masters, and Louis Kahn. Although she acknowledges and discusses the importance of family connections, the right schools, self-promotion, scholarships, design competition awards, and promotion by important journals, Williamson maintains that the apprenticeship connection is the single most important predictor of architectural fame. She offers the intriguing hypothesis that what is transferred in the relationship is not a particular style or approach but rather the courage and self-confidence to be true to one's own vision. Perhaps she says this is the case in all the arts. American Architects and the Mechanics of Fame is sure to provoke thought and comment in architecture and other creative fields.

Master Builders National Trust for Historic Preservation, 1985-10-01

The Architect Builds Visible History Vincent Scully Which architect designed the pedestal for the Statue of Liberty? Who put a Chippendale pediment atop a skyscraper and quickly created a landmark of contemporary architecture? Who was the only American architect to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor for bravery during the Civil War? Which architect designed a castle in California for William Randolph Hearst? Master Builders answers these and scores of other questions about more than 100 architects and builders who have left indelible marks on American architecture. This unique guide puts faces with America's most well-known and loved buildings from the U.S. Capitol and Washington Monument through the first skyscrapers and landmarks of the Post-Modern movement. Why should you want to know more about these architects? asks Roger K. Lewis in his introduction. The reason is simple: You are undeniably connected to the built environment that you inhabit, use, see, and respond to. You affect building design, and building design affects you. Can you pair these master builders with their works? Frank Lloyd Wright, U.S. Capitol, Skidmore, Owings, and Merrill, Central Park, Adler and Sullivan, University of Virginia, Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, Glass House, William Thornton, Home Insurance Building, Orson Squire Fowler, Fallingwater, H.H. Richardson, CBS Building, Frederick Law Olmsted, San Simeon, James Renwick, Seagram Building, Robert Mills, Trinity Church, Boston, I.M. Pei, Salk Institute, Julia Morgan, Sears Tower, Eero Saarinen, Smithsonian Castle, Cass Gilbert, John F. Kennedy Library, McKim, Mead, and White, U.S. Supreme Court, Louis I. Kahn, Chicago Stock
