Zitarelli, 2022-10-25 This is the first truly comprehensive and thorough history of the development of mathematics and a mathematical community in the United States and Canada This first volume of the multi volume work takes the reader from the European encounters with North America in the fifteenth century up to the emergence of a research community in the United States in the last quarter of the nineteenth century. In the story of the colonial period particular emphasis is given to several prominent colonial figures: Jefferson, Franklin, and Rittenhouse, and four important early colleges: Harvard, Queen's, William Mary, and Yale. During the first three quarters of the nineteenth century mathematics in North America was largely the occupation of scattered individual pioneers: Bowditch, Farrar, Adrain, B. Peirce. This period is given a fuller treatment here than previously in the literature, including the creation of the first PhD programs and attempts to form organizations and found journals. With the founding of Johns Hopkins in 1876 the American mathematical research community was finally and firmly founded. The programs at Hopkins, Chicago, and Clark are detailed, as are the influence of major European mathematicians, including especially Klein, Hilbert, and Sylvester. Klein's visit to the US and his Evanston Colloquium are extensively detailed. The founding of the American Mathematical Society is thoroughly discussed. David Zitarelli was emeritus Professor of Mathematics at Temple University. A decorated and acclaimed teacher, scholar, and expositor, he was one of the world's leading experts on the development of American mathematics. Author or co-author of over a dozen books, this was his magnum opus, sure to become the leading reference on the topic and essential reading not just for historians. In clear and compelling prose, Zitarelli spins a tale accessible to experts, generalists, and anyone interested in the history of science in North America.

The History of the Book in the West: 1914-2000 Alexis Weedon, 2017-03-02 This collection brings together published papers on key themes which book historians have identified as of particular significance in the history of twentieth-century publishing. It reprints some of the best comparative perspectives and most insightful and innovatively presented scholarship on publishing and book history from such figures as Philip Altbach, Lewis Coser, James Curran, Elizabeth Long, Laura Miller, Angus Phillips, Janice Radway, Jonathan Rose, Shafquat Towheed, Catherine Turner, Jay Satterfield, Clare Squires, Eva Hemmungs Wirtén. It is arranged into six sections which examine the internationalisation of publishing, businesses, changing notions of authorship, innovation in the design and marketing of books, the specific effects of globalisation on creative property, and the book in a multimedia marketplace. Twentieth-century book history attracts an audience beyond the traditional disciplines of librarianship, bibliography, history, and literary studies. It will appeal to publishing, educators, editors, publishers, booksellers, as well as academics with an interest in media and popular culture.
