A Light From Eleusis A Study Of Ezra Pounds Cantos:

A Light from Eleusis Leon Surette, 1979 Language, Sexuality, and Ideology in Ezra Pound's Cantos Jean-Michel Rabaté, 1986-02-01 Ezra Pound's Cantos remains among the most influential and difficult of twentieth century poetic writings. But now for the first time Rabat's powerful and original study presents a theory of reading adequate to the challenge of Pound's writing. Using elements from Lacanian psychoanalysis and Heidegger's powerful meditation of poetry and language, this book constructs a theory of reading which both gives full force to the strategies of writing deployed in the Cantos and to the historical and political situations to which those strategies are a response. This study provides a fresh reading of the familiar Pound canon: Homer, Dante, Ovid, but also of the less well known Ruskin, Browning, Frobenius. Pound's practice of quotation is understood in the context of a new poetic discourse characterized by parapraxis, ellipsis, condensation, and autonomous voices which refer the division of the speaking subject back to an omniform intellect capable of taking on any new personality at will. Crucial to an understanding of Pound's situation is the relationship between Chinese and Greek culture, an analysis of which allows Rabat to elaborate the tragic dimension in Pound's life and works. This book also parallels and contrasts Pound with his major contemporaries such as Eliot and Joyce, and with his immediate heirs like William Carlos Williams, H. D., Zukofsky, and Olson.

Readings in the Cantos Richard Parker, 2018 This volume offers clear readings of 28 Cantos from The Cantos of Ezra Pound in 23 essays written by eminent Poundians with careful explanation of sources, balanced with critical analysis of Pound's project.

W.B. Yeats, Ezra Pound, and the Poetry of Paradise Sean Pryor, 2016-02-24 Emphasizing the interplay of aesthetic forms and religious modes, Sean Pryor's ambitious study takes up the endlessly reiterated longing for paradise that features throughout the works of W. B. Yeats and Ezra Pound. Yeats and Pound define poetry in terms of paradise and paradise in terms of poetry. Pryor suggests, and these complex interconnections fundamentally shape the development of their art. Even as he maps the shared influences and intellectual interests of Yeats and Pound and highlights those moments when their poetic theories converge, Pryor's discussion of their poems' profound formal and conceptual differences uncovers the distinctive ways each writer imagines the divine, the good, the beautiful, or the satisfaction of desire. Throughout his study, Pryor argues that Yeats and Pound reconceive the quest for paradise as a quest for a new kind of poetry, a journey that Pryor traces by analysing unpublished manuscript drafts and newly published drafts that have received little attention. For Yeats and Pound, the journey towards a paradisaic poetic becomes a never-ending quest, at once self-defeating and self-fulfilling, a formulation that has implications not only for the work of these two poets but for the study of modernist literature.

Ezra Pound and Poetic Influence, 2021-09-13 This collection of twenty essays investigates a series of different aspects of poetic influence in relation to the major modernist poet Ezra Pound. The volume commences with five essays on matters to do with translation and poetic influence which situate Ezra Pound as an important transitional figure between 19th century and 20th century translation strategies. The next five essays consider different influences on Pound's poetry and introduce the reader to new research in a variety of areas including how specific Chinese cultural artefacts inform his poetry. The following five essays explore Pound's influence on some of his major contemporaries such as Eugenio Montale and Charles Olson and also through the reading he gave her as a girl on his daughter Mary de Rachewiltz. The concluding five essays exemplify different approaches to the thorny issue of Pound and politics and end with two diametrically opposed interpretations of Pound's political poetic thought. The collection will be of great interest to scholars of Ezra Pound and of modern to postmodern poetry but it will also serve as a useful and lively introduction to some of the debates within Pound scholarship to students coming to his work for the first time. W.B. Yeats, Ezra Pound, and the Poetry of Paradise Dr Sean Pryor, 2013-05-28. Emphasizing the interplay of aesthetic forms and religious modes, Sean Pryor's ambitious study takes up the endlessly reiterated longing for paradise that features throughout the works of W.B. Yeats and Ezra Pound. Yeats and Pound define poetry in terms of paradise and paradise in terms of poetry. Pryor suggests and these complex interconnections fundamentally shape the development of their art. Even as he maps the shared influences and intellectual interests of Yeats and Pound and highlights those moments when their poetic theories converge, Pryor's discussion of their poems' profound formal and conceptual differences uncovers the distinctive ways each writer imagines the divine, the good, the beautiful or the satisfaction of desire. For Yeats and Pound, the journey towards a paradisaic poetic becomes a never-ending quest, at once self-defeating and self-fulfilling, a formulation that has implications not only for the work of these two poets but for the study of modernist literature.

Ezra Pound and Confucianism Feng Lan, 2011-11-01. In Ezra Pound and Confucianism, Feng Lan offers the first study of Ezra Pound's project of establishing a Confucian humanism as an alternative to Western modernism. While Pound scholars are familiar with the American poet's commitment to Confucianism, the question of how Confucianism systematically shaped Pound's thoughts has not been convincingly answered. Lan shows that when confronted with what appeared to him a dehumanising modern world, Pound discovered in Confucianism possible solutions to issues that he encountered in language, politics and religion, which Western intellectual tradition as a whole had failed to provide. By integrating Confucian doctrines with received ideas from Western tradition, Pound developed a humanist discourse and brought it to bear on the historical conditions of his time. The result was a discourse characterized primarily by the following beliefs: the human mind as the source of creation; the individual's moral will as the basis of truth and social order; the human partnership with the world of nature; the self-perfectibility of human beings and their innate capability for internal transcendence in spiritual life. Lan examines the strategies with which Pound reconstructed Confucianism into a systematic modern discourse focusing on his controversial translation of Confucian scriptures, his rethinking of the nature of language and poetry, his political theory of the individual and the state, and his formulation of an unorthodox spirituality Situating Pound's works in diverse cultural historical and intellectual contexts Ezra Pound and Confucianism demonstrates that despite its frequent divergence from the Confucian canon Pound's Confucian humanism gives his poetry an ideological coherence enriches the Western humanist tradition and asserts its relevance to the historical and cross cultural development of Confucianism in modern times Ezra Pound's Japan Andrew

Houwen, 2021-03-25 The first book to deal with the subject of Ezra Pound's relationships with Japanese literature as a whole this book provides a wealth of new scholarship on this subject including on the 19th century Japanese contexts that led to Pound's interest in hokku and Fenollosa's No translations on which Pound based his own significant original research on Pound's Japanese friendships that enriched his understanding of Japanese literature and an examination of all the explicit references to No in The Cantos in unprecedented depth It demonstrates that the works for which Ezra Pound is most famous such as In a Station of the Metro and his epic poem The Cantos were shaped by his lifelong interest in Japanese literature
