A Magic Still Dwells Comparative Religion In The Postmodern Age:

A Magic Still Dwells Kimberley C. Patton, Benjamin C. Ray, 2000-01-11 In this assessment of the field of comparative religion this text surmounts the seemingly intractable division between postmodern scholars who reject the comparative endeavour and those who affirm it It brings together leading historians of religion from a range of backgrounds and vantage points Bringing the Sacred Down to Earth Corinne G. Dempsey, 2012 Corinne Dempsey offers a study of Hindu and Christian Indian and Euro American earthbound religious expressions She argues that official religious political and epistemological systems tend to deny sacred access and expression to the general populace New Patterns for Comparative Religion William E. Paden, 2016-05-19 The cross cultural study of religion has always gone hand in hand with the worldview sciences or intellectual frameworks of the time These frames whether focused on psychology or politics gender or colonialism bring out perspectives for understanding religious behavior Today one of our common civic worldviews is represented in the shift from scriptural to evolutionary history This volume brings together in one place key essays by professor emeritus William Paden showing a progression of steps he has taken in exploring bridgeworks between comparative religion and evolutionary models of religious behavior One of the leading scholars in religious studies Paden shows ways that religion can be contextualized as part of the natural world and thus seen as reflecting the ingrained sociality and world making drive of the human species Paden argues that although comparativism has been challenged as too culture bound too western or too gendered cross over categories and concepts between religious traditions cannot be avoided Arguing that there are recurrent patterns of human behavior common to our species and that thereby underlie all cultures he proposes that the missing link in the Religion Evolution debate is comparative religion a global cross cultural perspective on religious behaviours throughout time Each article is contextualized within this overall trajectory of thought within Paden's work and the history of the discipline as a whole Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology

Perry Schmidt-Leukel, Andreas Nehring, 2016-07-14 Can religions be compared For decades the discipline of religious studies was based on the assumption that they can Postmodern and postcolonial reflections however raised significant doubts In social and cultural studies the investigation of the particular often took precedence over a comparative perspective Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology questions whether religious studies can survive if it ceases to be comparative religion Can it do justice to a globalized world if it is limited on the specific and turns a blind eye on the general While comparative approaches have come under strong pressure in religious studies they have started flourishing in Theology Comparative theology practices interfaith dialogue by means of comparative research This volume asks whether theology and religious studies are able to mutually benefit from their critical and constructive reflections Can postcolonial criticism of neutrality and objectivity in religious studies create new links with the decidedly perspectival approach of comparative theology In this collection scholars from theology and religious studies discuss the methodology of interreligious comparison in the light of recent doubts and current objections Together with the contributors Perry Schmidt Leukel and Andreas Nehring argue that after decades of critique interreligious comparison deserves to be reconsidered reconstructed and reintroduced

Paul the Allegorist Andrew C. Burrow,2024-09-19 In a moment of great crisis the apostle Paul gave new meanings to characters and events within Genesis 16 21 without completely denying or replacing their prior meanings This interpretive practice as found in Galatians 4 21 31 has troubled interpreters of Scripture since the fourth century This book demonstrates that Paul s practice was allegorical and provides a more precise understanding of his practice by comparing Paul with three roughly contemporary interpreters of Scripture the sectarian interpreters of texts in the Dead Sea Scrolls the interpreter Philo and the author of the Epistle of Barnabas This book identifies Paul s interpretive work explains how he used his allegorical practice to accomplish it and reveals the implications of this practice for understanding him as an interpreter of Scripture It helps resolve a debate ongoing for nearly two millennia by answering the questions What does Paul do in Galatians 4 21 31 and why does it matter

What is Constructive Theology? Marion Grau,Jason Wyman,2020-10-29 This essential introduction to contemporary constructive theology charts the most important disciplinary trends of the moment It gives a historical overview of the field and discusses key hermeneutical and methodological concerns The contributors apply a constructive perspective to a wide range of approaches ranging from biblical hermeneutics and postcolonial studies to comparative political and black theology What is Constructive Theology shows how diverse and interdisciplinary constructive theology can be by exploring key themes in the field The contributors explore the porous boundaries between Christianity and other religions reflect on contextual liberation and constructive theologies from Africa and from Black British perspectives explore the connection between embodiment epistemology and hermeneutics and take a constructive approach to the dangerous memories and theologies of colonial histories in Belgium and Native Americans in the United States This sampler of the field will help you rethink theologies and find constructive alternatives

Contemplative Science B. Alan Wallace,2007 Science has long treated religion as a set of personal beliefs that have little to do with a rational understanding of the mind and the universe This work attempts to bridge this gap by launching an unbiased investigation into the history and practices of science and Buddhist contemplative disciplines

Saving One Another: Philodemus and Paul on Moral Formation in Community Justin Allison, 2020-07-20 In Saving One Another Philodemus and Paul on Moral Formation in Community Justin Reid Allison compares how the Epicurean philosopher Philodemus and the Christian apostle Paul envisioned the members of their communities helping one another to grow into moral maturity Allison establishes that Philodemus and Paul are more similar than previously noticed in their conception and practice of moral formation in community and that these similarities offer a critical opportunity to consider important differences between the two as well By deepening the comparison to include differences alongside similarities and to include theological and socio economic facets of communal moral formation Allison shows that Philodemus and Paul uniquely shed fresh light on one another's texts when understood in comparative perspective

The Literary Kierkegaard Eric Ziolkowski, 2011-12-31 Eric Ziolkowski's monumental study examines Kierkegaard's whole prolix literature including the pseudonymous and the signed published writings as well as his private journals papers and letters in relation to works by five other literary giants Kierkegaard himself stresses the essentially literary as opposed to the strictly theological or philosophical nature of his writings Uncovering this neglected aspect of Kierkegaard's oeuvre Ziolkowski first considers the notions of aesthetics and the aesthetic as Kierkegaard adapted them then his posture as a poet and his self conception as a weed in literature After taking account of the history of the critical recognition of Kierkegaard as a literary artist Ziolkowski looks at an important characteristic of Kierkegaard's literary craft that has received relatively little attention the manner by which he and his pseudonyms read and quoted other authors Ziolkowski explores the connections between the philosopher's writings and those of other literary masters who directly influenced him such as Aristophanes Cervantes and Shakespeare and those such as Wolfram von Eschenbach and Carlyle who while not direct influences gave paradigmatic expression to some of the same

aspects of aesthetic ethical and religious existence that Kierkegaard portrayed A necessary resource for Kierkegaard scholars philosophers and students of religion and literature alike The literary Kierkegaard corrects a significant lack in our understanding of one of the most significant thinkers of the modern era dust jacket
