influence and every necessary weapon of war Unlike the Cold War the War on Terrorism is neither a battle against some ideology nor bounded by physical boundaries or conventional political units such as nation states The War on Terrorism is the internationalisation or rather globalisation of previous wars Terror is not a nation and the enemies in such wars are not nations any regime such as Libya simply by repudiating terrorism can become an ally of the anti terror coalition Regimes that continue to practice terrorism against domestic opponents qualify to participate in the wider war if they conform to certain norms in external affairs The 28 articles reprinted here consider aspects of that most amorphous of animals the War on Terrorism They do not set out to provide all of the answers nor do they radiate a unified vision of what constitutes the war on terrorism the pieces begin from a range of political and intellectual outlooks Taken as a group however the difficulties of determining the limits and nature of the war on terrorism receive important attention The authors address several major themes within the war on terrorism what falls within its perimeters its shifting manifestations implications responses and future directions
