

Parent Note

By the time children are ready to begin reading, they have learned about books, illustrations, and words. They know that letters make up words and words form sentences to tell stories. Much of beginning reading is memorization of words and short sentences.

In order to read successfully, children need to:

- master a basic vocabulary of sight words
- learn to sound out words
- learn to use context clues in illustrations and text for meaning

School Zone's Start to Read series helps children learn to read by presenting interesting stories with easy vocabularies. Words are repeated. Sentences are short. Rhyming words help children increase their vocabularies. Context clues in the illustrations are abundant.

Most of the vocabulary words in A Different Tune are typically introduced in first grade and second grade. The words stranger, failed, early, special, instead, beautiful, and must are higher-level words. You may need to help your child sound out these words. After several readings together, encourage your child to read alone. Praise your child's efforts because, most of all, the reading experience should be enjoyable.
