Amistad 2 Writings On Black History And Culture:

Amistad ,1971 Black Identity and Black Protest in the Antebellum North Patrick Rael,2003-01-14 Frederick Douglass Sojourner Truth Martin Delany these figures stand out in the annals of black protest for their vital antislavery efforts But what of the rest of their generation the thousands of other free blacks in the North Patrick Rael explores the tradition of protest and sense of racial identity forged by both famous and lesser known black leaders in antebellum America and illuminates the ideas that united these activists across a wide array of divisions In so doing he reveals the roots of the arguments that still resound in the struggle for justice today Mining sources that include newspapers and pamphlets of the black national press speeches and sermons slave narratives and personal memoirs Rael recovers the voices of an extraordinary range of black leaders in the first half of the nineteenth century He traces how these activists constructed a black American identity through their participation in the discourse of the public sphere and how this identity in turn informed their critiques of a nation predicated on freedom but devoted to white supremacy His analysis explains how their place in the industrializing urbanizing antebellum North offered black leaders a unique opportunity to smooth over class and other tensions among themselves and successfully galvanize the race against slavery Black Intellectual Thought in Modern America Brian D. Behnken,Gregory D. Smithers,Simon Wendt,2017-09-07 Contributions by Tunde Adeleke Brian D Behnken Minkah Makalani Benita Roth Gregory D Smithers Simon Wendt and Danielle L Wiggins Black intellectualism has been misunderstood by the American public and by scholars for generations Historically maligned by their peers and by the lay public as inauthentic or illegitimate black intellectuals have found their work misused ignored or discarded Black intellectuals have also been reductively placed into one or two main categories they are usually deemed liberal or less frequently as conservative The contributors to this volume explore several prominent intellectuals from left leaning leaders such as W E B Du Bois to conservative intellectuals like Thomas Sowell from well known black feminists such as Patricia Hill Collins to Marxists like Claudia Jones to underscore the variety of black intellectual thought in the United States Contributors also situate the development of the lines of black intellectual thought within the broader history from which these trends emerged The result gathers essays that offer entry into a host of rich intellectual traditions The Case against Afrocentrism Tunde Adeleke,2011-01-05 Postcolonial discourses on African Diaspora history and relations have traditionally focused intensely on highlighting the common experiences and links between black Africans and African Americans This is especially true of Afrocentric scholars and supporters who use Africa to construct and validate a monolithic racial and culturally essentialist worldview Publications by Afrocentric scholars such as Molefi Asante Marimba Ani Maulana Karenga and the late John Henrik Clarke have emphasized the centrality of Africa to the construction of Afrocentric essentialism In the last fifteen years however countervailing critical scholarship has challenged essentialist interpretations of Diaspora history Critics such as Stephen Howe Yaacov Shavit and Clarence Walker have questioned and refuted the intellectual and cultural underpinnings of Afrocentric essentialist ideology Tunde Adeleke deconstructs Afrocentric essentialism by illuminating and interrogating the problematic situation of Africa as the foundation of a racialized worldwide African Diaspora He attempts to fill an intellectual gap by analyzing the contradictions in Afrocentric representations of the continent These include multiple conflicting and ambivalent portraits of Africa the use of the continent as a global unifying identity for all blacks the de emphasizing and nullification of New World acculturation and the ahistoric construction of a monolithic African Diaspora worldwide

Making America, Making American Literature A. Robert Lee, W. M. Verhoeven, 1996 If 1776 heralds America s Birth of the Nation so too it witnesses the rise of a matching and overlapping American Literature For between the 1770s and the 1820s American writing moves on from the ancestral Puritanism of New England and Virginia though not as yet into the American Renaissance so strikingly called for by Ralph Waldo Emerson Even so the concourse of voices which arise in this period that is between and including Benjamin Franklin and James Fenimore Cooper mark both a key transitional literary generation and yet one all too easily passed over in its own imaginative right This collection of fifteen specially commissioned essays seeks to establish new bearings a revision of one of the key political and literary eras in American culture Not only are Franklin and Cooper themselves carefully re evaluated in the making of America s new literary republic but figures like Charles Brockden Brown Washington Irving Philip Freneau William Cullen Bryant the other Alexander Hamilton and the playwrights Royall Tyler and William Dunlop Other essays take a more inclusive perspective whether American epistolary fiction a first generation of American women authored fiction the public discourse of The Federalist Papers the rise of the American periodical or the founding African American generation of Phillis Wheatley What unites all the essays is the common assumption that the making of America was as much a matter of creating its national literature as the making of American literature was a matter of shaping a national identity

Slavery and the American South Winthrop D. Jordan, 2003 In 1900 very few historians were exploring the institution of slavery in the South But in the next half century the culture of slavery became a dominating theme in Southern historiography In the 1970s it was the subject of the first Chancellor s Symposium in Southern History held at the University of Mississippi Since then scholarly interest in slavery has proliferated ever more widely In fact the editor of this retrospective volume states that since the 1970s the expansion has resulted in a corpus that has a huge number of components scores even hundreds rather than mere dozens He states that no such gathering could possibly summarize all the changes of those twenty five years Hence for the Chancellor Porter L Fortune Symposium in Southern History in the year 2000 instead of providing historiographical summary the participants were invited to formulate thoughts arising from their own special interests and experiences Each paper was complemented by a learned penetrating reaction On balance the editor avers in his introduction reflection about the whole can convey a further sense of the condition of this field of scholarship at the very end of the last century which was surely an improvement over what prevailed at the beginning The collection of papers includes the following Logic and Experience Thomas Jefferson s Life in the Law by Annette Gordon Reed with commentary by Peter S Onuf The Peculiar Fate of the Bourgeois Critique of Slavery by James Oakes with commentary by Walter Johnson Reflections on Law Culture and Slavery by Ariela Gross with commentary by Laura F Edwards Rape in Black and White Sexual Violence in the Testimony of Enslaved and Free Americans by Norrece T Jones Jr with commentary by Jan Lewis The Long History of a Low Place Slavery on the South Carolina Coast 1670 1870 by Robert Olwell with commentary by William Dushinberre Paul Robeson and Richard Wright on the Arts and Slave Culture by Sterling Stuckey with commentary by Roger D Abrahams
