An Album Of Chinese Americans Picture Album:

An Album of Chinese Americans Betty Lee Sung, 1977-01-01 Discusses the life of Chinese Americans today including their past history and their present customs and problems

The Chinese American Family Album Dorothy Hoobler, Thomas Hoobler, 1994 The Chinese American Family Album is a scrapbook of family letters and diary entries official documents newspaper articles and excerpts from literature of the past and present a personal remembrance of an extended family of Chinese immigrants and their descendants As we read we begin to know this family almost as well as our own The letters written by the new immigrants to the folks left behind in China allow us to feel the ache of leaving home and family behind Clippings from newspapers and personal memories tell of the pain and fear and prejudice in the new country We learn about the building of the transcontinental railroad and how Chinese immigrants were the backbone of the work force tailing long hours under the worst conditions We see Chinatowns spring up wherever the immigrants landed and we see how the traditions and culture of China were both preserved and altered as the immigrants became Americanized But we also share the joy of first sighting the new homeland We follow families through the generations and see how they are living now and what they have brought to our country We read about famous Chinese Americans who have risen to the top of their fields such as athlete Michael Chang author Amy Tan musician Yo Yo Ma and Senator Hiram Fong And we see wonderful faces husbands alone in the new world families reunited new babies grandparents The unique carefully researched photographs make the participants in the Chinese American experience real people who have an impact on our lives Thomas and Dorothy Hoobler s The Chinese American Family Album makes the past experiences of these immigrants and those of their sons and daughters in all the generations since as real and immediate as the stories told by a favorite grandmother They bring us in like an embrace to the all encompassing ever growing multicultural family of Americans The titles in the American Family Albums series tell the multicolored and often heroic stories of American immigrant groups largely through their own words and pictures Like any family album or scrapbook the pages contain many period photographs and other memorabilia These join with original documents including selections from diaries letters memoirs and newspapers to bring the immigrant experience vividly to life

Asian American Film Festivals Erin Franziska Högerle, 2020-10-26 Responding to a lack of studies on the film festival s role in the production of cultural memory this book explores different parameters through which film festivals shape our reception and memories of films By focusing on two Asian American film festivals this book analyzes the frames of memory that festivals create for their films constructed through and circulated by the various festival media It further establishes that festival locations both cities and screening venues play a significant role in shaping our experience of films Finally it shows that festivals produce performances which help guide audiences towards certain readings and direct the film s role as a memory object Bringing together film festival studies and memory studies Asian American Film Festivals offers a mixed methods approach with which to explore the film festival phenomenon thus shedding light on the complex dynamics of frames locations and performances shaping the festival's memory practices It also draws attention to the understudied genre of Asian American film festivals showing how these festivals actively engage in constructing and performing a minority group's collective identity and memory

Photography and Migration Tanya Sheehan, 2018-06-14 Written in the context of unprecedented dislocation and a global refugee crisis this edited volume thinks through photography's long and complex relationship to human migration While contemporary media images largely frame migration in terms of trauma victimhood and pity so much more can be said of photography's role in the movement of people around the world Cameras can document enable or control human movement across geographical cultural and political divides Their operators put faces on forced and voluntary migrations making visible hardships and suffering as well as opportunity and optimism Photographers include migrating subjects who take pictures for their own consumption not for international recognition And photographs themselves migrate with their makers subjects and viewers as the very concept of photography takes on new functions and meanings Photography and Migration places into conversation media images and other photographs that the contributors have witnessed collected or created through their diverse national regional and local contexts Developed across thirteen chapters this conversation encompasses images histories and testimonies offering analysis of new perspectives on photography and migration today

The Politics of the Visible in Asian North American Narratives Eleanor Ty, 2004-05-20 Examining nine Asian Canadian and Asian American narratives Eleanor Ty explores how authors empower themselves represent differences and re script their identities as visible minorities within the ideological imaginative and discursive space given to them by dominant culture In various ways Asian North Americans negotiate daily with birthmarks their shared physical features marking them legally socially and culturally as visible outsiders and paradoxically as invisible to mainstream history and culture Ty argues that writers such as Denise Chong Shirley Geok lin Lim and Wayson Choy recast the marks of their bodies and challenge common perceptions of difference based on the sights smells dress and other characteristics of their hyphenated lives Others like filmmaker Mina Shum and writers Bienvenido Santos and Hiromi Goto challenge the means by which Asian North American subjects are represented and constructed in the media and in everyday language Through close readings grounded in the socio historical context of each work Ty studies the techniques of various authors and filmmakers in their meeting of the gaze of dominant culture and their response to the assumptions and meanings commonly associated with Orientalized visible bodies

Doing Public Humanities Susan Smulyan, 2020-07-20 Doing Public Humanities explores the cultural landscape from disruptive events to websites from tours to exhibits from after school arts programs to archives giving readers a wide ranging look at the interdisciplinary practice of public humanities Combining a practitioner's focus on case studies with the scholar's more abstract and theoretical approach this collection of essays is useful for both teaching and appreciating public humanities The contributors are committed to presenting a public humanities practice that encourages social justice and explores the intersectionalities of race class gender and sexualities Centering on the experiences of students with many of the case studies focused on course projects the content will enable them to relate to and better understand this new field of study The text is essential reading for undergraduate and graduate classes in public history historic preservation history of art engaged sociology and public archaeology and anthropology as well as public humanities Race and the Production of Modern American Nationalism Reynolds J. Scott-Childress, 2014-01-14 This important book addresses the ways race has both helped and hindered Americans in determining national identity Contributors consider race and American nationalism from a variety of historical and disciplinary vantage points Beginning with the aftermath of the Civil War and unfolding chronologically through to the present the essays examine a multitude of different groups Japanese Americans Chinese Americans Puerto Ricans African Americans whites Jews Irish Americans German Americans by examining race and nationalism represented in public memorials photography film classic and minor literature gender issues legal studies and more The book offers rereadings of some of the pivotal figures in American culture and politics including Herman Melville Frances Harper William James Frederic Remington Charles Francis Adams W E B DuBois George Creel Zora Neale Hurston Louis Chu and others In the course of these essays readers will learn how Americans in different periods and circumstances have grappled with the changing issues of defining race and of defining American as a race as a nationality or as both
