Beginning Well Christian Conversion And Authentic Transformation:

Beginning Well Gordon T. Smith, 2001-08-17 Gordon T Smith contends that a chief cause of spiritual immaturity in the evangelical church is an inadequate theology of conversion Surveying Scripture spiritual autobiographies and a broad range of theologies of conversion he seeks to foster in the Christian community a dynamic language of conversion that leads to spiritual transformation and mature Christian living

Understanding Religious Conversion Dong Young Kim, 2012-07-20 Understanding Religious Conversion begins with emphasis on the value of respecting religious theological interpretations of conversion while coordinating social scientific studies of how personal social and cultural issues are relevant to the human transformational process It encourages us to bring together the perspectives of psychology sociology anthropology and religious studies into critical and mutually informing conversation for establishing a richer and more accurate perception of the complex phenomenon of religious conversion The case of St Augustine s conversion experience superbly illustrates the complicated and multidimensional process of religious change By critically extending the contributions of the literature within Lewis Rambo s interdisciplinary framework Dong Young Kim presents a more integrated picture of how personal social cultural and religious theological components interact with one another in the process of Augustine s conversion In doing so he has struggled with how to relocate more effectively and practically the conversion narrative of Augustine within the context of pastoral care and ministry and the field of the academy in order to facilitate a better understanding of the conversion stories of the church members as well as to enhance the experiences of religious conversion within the Christian community
