Accounting Information Systems Concepts And Practice For Effective Decision Making:

Accounting Information Systems Stephen A. Moscové, Mark G. Simkin, 1981 Accounting Information Systems, Applications Manual Stephen A. Moscové, Mark G. Simkin, Nancy A. Bagranoff, 1987-06-19 This Fourth Edition analyzes the vital role of computerized accounting information systems in today's business world. Intended for the accounting major, it covers management concepts of importance to accountants with emphasis on the design of accounting information systems. It discusses the central tasks of accounting information systems: namely, collecting, recording, and storing business data and the accountant's role in implementing effective internal controls. Also gives thorough treatment to systems studies leading to development of more efficient accounting information systems and looks at special topics such as accounting for nonprofit organizations and small businesses. A variety of exercises and cases are included at the end of each chapter and an entire section is devoted to more extensive case studies.

Controlling Thomas Reichmann, 2012-12-06 In times of globalization, competition, and economic and technological progress, the permanent improvement of the planning, coordination, and control system of companies is a major task of Controlling. This book presents a concise concept for the design of a ratio and management report system for each functional part of the company. It addresses as well practitioners who seek decision support in their day-to-day business as scientists and students who want to obtain information about the state of the art of Management Control and Controlling.
