Aviation In Leicestershire And Rutland:

Aviation in Leicestershire and Rutland Roy Bonser, 2001 50 Gems of Leicestershire & Rutland Michael Smith, 2021-07-15 A superb collection of 50 favourite and lesser known locations that reflect Leicestershire and Rutland's history cultural essence and scenic splendour Horizons H. R. Kidd, 2014-04-22 Although the first air cadet unit was raised in Bournemouth in 1928 the first squadrons to be formed in a privately funded national organisation were part of the Air Defence Cadet Corps in 1938 Thousands of youngsters joined and were able to learn about aircraft aerodynamics navigation mechanics and other subjects not taught in schools The organization was to become known as The Air Training Corps ATC and as war loomed it was considered a useful RAF recruitment tool to attract potential airmen and ground crew Throughout the war ATC cadets supported the home defences by fire watching as messengers and as observers working alongside the Home Guard the fire services and other vital organisations During the second half of the 1900s the corps continued to thrive Girls were now included and retired RAF officers and other ranks continued to take an active part in each squadron There are now over 900 squadrons within the UK providing the same skills to modern youth and teaching them the importance of personal responsibility and teamwork via annual camps at RAF stations adventure training and flight experience This book looks at all aspects of the Air Cadet's history and tradition including the RAF sections of the Combined Cadet Force attached to public and grammar schools It concludes with an analysis of what subjects and courses are currently available with many past and present illustrations As seen in The York Press and The Scarborough News British Built Aircraft Volume 5 Ron Smith, 2005 Last in a series of five volumes about British aircraft this book provides a complete record of aircraft construction in Northern England Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland The aim of the series is to record British aircraft manufacture in nearly all of its manifestations in the form of a regional survey of the United Kingdom British Built Aircraft: Central & Eastern England Ron Smith, 2004 A history of British built aircraft Air Pictorial , 2002 The Aeroplane and Commercial Aviation News , 1957 Royal Air Force Bomber Command Losses W. R. Chorley, 2002 This is the seventh volume in Midlands' highly respected series detailing the losses suffered by the RAF's Bomber Command during and in the case of this volume in the years immediately after the Second World War The OTUs were the units in which aircrew got to grips with the heavy bombers they were to fly in combat It is perhaps not surprising that the number of men who came to grief whilst training was very high This volume in common with the other books in the series identifies the units involved in each incident as well as the aircraft and the individual members of the crew concerned A brief description of the circumstances behind each loss is also given In total this book provides information on almost 2 400 losses This is the penultimate volume in the Bomber Command Losses series An eighth book is in preparation This will be a role of honour listing all the aircrew who perished in the service of Bomber Command during the conflict Aeroplane and Commercial Aviation News , 1957-07 Flypast , 2008
