Aztecs Moors And Christians Festivals Of Reconquest In Mexico And Spain:

Aztecs, Moors, and Christians Max Harris, 2010-01-01 In villages and towns across Spain and its former New World colonies local performers stage mock battles between Spanish Christians and Moors or Aztecs that range from brief sword dances to massive street theatre lasting several days The festival tradition officially celebrates the triumph of Spanish Catholicism over its enemies yet this does not explain its persistence for more than five hundred years nor its widespread diffusion In this insightful book Max Harris seeks to understand Mexicans puzzling and enduring passion for festivals of moros y cristianos He begins by tracing the performances roots in medieval Spain and showing how they came to be superimposed on the mock battles that had been a part of pre contact Aztec calendar rituals Then using James Scott's distinction between public and hidden transcripts he reveals how in the hands of folk and indigenous performers these spectacles of conquest became prophecies of the eventual reconquest of Mexico by the defeated Aztec peoples Even today as lively descriptions of current festivals make plain they remain a remarkably sophisticated vehicle for the communal expression of dissent

Afro-Catholic Festivals in the Americas Cécile Fromont, 2019-04-24 This volume demonstrates how from the beginning of the Atlantic slave trade enslaved and free Africans in the Americas used Catholicism and Christian derived celebrations as spaces for autonomous cultural expression social organization and political empowerment Their appropriation of Catholic based celebrations calls into question the long held idea that Africans and their descendants in the diaspora either resignedly accepted Christianity or else transformed its religious rituals into syncretic objects of stealthy resistance In cities and on plantations throughout the Americas men and women of African birth or descent staged mock battles against heathens elected Christian queens and kings with great pageantry and gathered in festive rituals to express their devotion to saints Many of these traditions endure in the twenty first century The contributors to this volume draw connections between these Afro Catholic festivals observed from North America to South America and the Caribbean and their precedents in the early modern kingdom of Kongo one of the main regions of origin of men and women enslaved in the New World This transatlantic perspective offers a useful counterpoint to the Yoruba focus prevailing in studies of African diasporic religions and reveals how Kongo infused Catholicism constituted a site for the formation of black Atlantic tradition Afro Catholic Festivals in the Americas complicates the notion of Christianity as a European tool of domination and enhances our comprehension of the formation and trajectory of black religious culture on the American continent It will be of great interest to scholars of African diaspora religion Christianity and performance In addition to the editor the contributors include Kevin Dawson Jeroen Dewulf Junia Ferreira Furtado Michael Iyanaga Dianne M Stewart Miguel A Valerio and Lisa Voigt
