Engineering the F-4 Phantom II Glenn E. Bugos,1996 Conceived in 1953 in a chickenwire covered cubicle known as the advanced design cage at McDonnell Aircraft the F 4 Phantom II fighter bomber was produced for 25 years serving a full workload in Vietnam for the Navy Marines and Air Force and surviving through the 1990s in the air arms of eleven nations While most case studies of modern aircraft focus on the many ways the military industrial complex goes wrong this trenchant invigorating study looks deeper at how those who built the complex intended it to work Step by step the reader discovers how the relationships among parts systems procedures economies and missions were shaped by relationships among people scientists engineers testers program managers subcontractors military strategists pilots and corporate leaders Drawing on exhaustive research including interviews with key players the author makes a major advance in the burgeoning body of literature on technology management by showing how McDonnell worked through the problems of technical integration that plagued defense engineering in the 1960s and 1970s and led to programs full of complexity It is as much a study of how aircraft manufacturers and military officers went about their business as it is a life and times history of an important aircraft USAF F-4 Phantom II MiG Killers 1965-68 Peter E. Davies, 2012-11-20 The USAF introduced the F 4C Phantom II into the Vietnam war in April 1965 from Ubon RTAB Thailand The F 4C D soon became the Air Force s principal fighter over the North destroying 85 MiGs by the close of 1968 This book describes how the USAF turned a gunless naval interceptor into an opponent to the more nimble VPAF MiGs It explains how the Air Force gradually followed US Navy initiatives in the use of the F 4 s missile armament but employed very different tactics and aircrew training The roles of key personalities such as Col Robin Oldan are discussed together with armament and markings crews and engagements

McDonnell Douglas F-4 Phantom II William R. Peake, 2004 A legend in its own time over five thousand Phantoms were built in St Louis and Japan over more than twenty years This heavily tabular book gives the construction number and first flight date of each aircraft and the attrition or retirement date and disposition of those no longer in service USAF USN and USMC aircraft which have scored combat victories are also detailed McDonnell F-4 Phantom Gerard Paloque, 2010-05-01 Shortly after the US Navy put the F 4H 1 Phantom II into service in 1960 the US Air Force in turn took an interest in it After a successful comparison with the best machines of the period it was decided at the beginning of 1962 to use it as the standard tactical fighter It was in May 1963 that the first USAF F 4C overall similar to the Navy version made its first flight and exceeded Mach 2 Several versions and variants of the twin engine fighter were produced over almost ten years taking advantage each time of the progress made in avionics power plants and armament with the original all missile concept being eventually put aside in the light of the fighting in South East Asia in which the aircraft took an active part in exchange for an on board weapon which turned out to be very effective both in the aerial combat and ground attack roles Apart from the USAF and the various units of the Air National Guard or the United States Reserve which used the 2 600 F 4s up to the middle of the 90s especially for recce or electronic warfare the Phantom IIs were also very successful in the export markets since more than 1 200 examples were flown by ten or so countries especially NATO ones Some like Japan even built them under license in large numbers and many like Israel and Iran often used them successfully in combat
