Women from Another Planet? Jean Kearns Miller,2003-08-06

Mention the word autism and the room suddenly turns silent Its the dreaded A word Peoples attention turns to late night TV public service ads declaring that autistic children are imprisoned by autism and need curing at all cost Recent autobiographies have helped dispel this dire description by suggesting that autism is not a prison and that the door is unlocked and youre free to come in Women from Another Planet moves beyond these autistic life stories in important ways Its a collection of stories and conversations all of them by women on the autism spectrum who speak candidly insightfully and often engagingly about both their gender in terms of their autism and their autism in terms of their gender It is written not just for parents and professionals like the other works but also to those women still searching for ways to understand the unnamed difference they live with as well as the wider audience of discerning readers If you enter the unlocked door of these Women from Another Planet you may end up with a question mark or two about your planet Is normalcy really all its cracked up to be

Readings for Diversity and Social Justice Maurianne Adams,2000 These essays include writings from Cornel West Michael Omi Audre Lorde Gloria Anzaldua and Michelle Fine The essays address the multiplicity and scope of oppressions ranging from ableism to racism and other less well known social aberrations Unacknowledged Traces Tony Baldwinson,2012

Contested Issues in Student Affairs Peter M. Magolda,Marcia B. Baxter Magolda,2023-07-03 What is your level of understanding of the many moral ideological and political issues that student affairs educators regularly encounter What is your personal responsibility to addressing these issues What are the rationales behind your decisions What are the theoretical perspectives you might choose and why How do your responses compare with those of colleagues Contested Issues in Student Affairs augments traditional introductory handbooks that focus on functional areas e g residence life career services and organizational issues It fills a void by addressing the social educational and moral concepts and concerns of student affairs work that transcend content areas and administrative units such as the tensions between theory and practice academic affairs and student affairs risk taking and failure and such as issues of race ethnicity sexual orientation and spirituality It places learning and social justice at the epicenter of student affairs practice The book addresses these issues by asking 24 critical and contentious questions that go to the heart of contemporary educational practice Intended equally for future student affairs educators in graduate preparation programs and as reading for professional development workshops it is designed to stimulate reflection and prompt readers to clarify their own thinking and practice as they confront the complexities of higher education Student affairs faculty administrators and graduate students here situate these 24 questions historically in the professional literature present background information and context define key terms summarize the diverse ideological and theoretical responses to the questions make explicit their own perspectives and responses discuss their political implications and set them in the context of the changing nature of student affairs work Each chapter is followed by a response that offers additional perspectives and complications reminding readers of the ambiguity and complexity of many situations Each chapter concludes with a brief annotated bibliography of seminal works that offer additional information on the topic as well as with a URL to a moderated blog site that encourages further conversation on each topic and allows readers to teach and learn from each other and interact with colleagues beyond their immediate campus The website invites readers to post blogs respond to each other and upload relevant resources The book aims to serve as a conversation starter to engage professionals in on going dialogue about these complex and enduring challenges

Short Contents The 24 questions are organized into four units I The Philosophical Foundations of Student Affairs in Higher Education explores the implications and complications of student affair educators placing learning at the epicenter of their professional work II The Challenges of Promoting Learning and Development explores the challenges associated with learning centered practice III Achieving Inclusive and Equitable Learning Environments addresses crafting learning environments that include students whose needs are often labeled special or students and or student subcultures that are often marginalized and encouraged to adapt to normalizing expectations IV Organizing Student Affairs Practice for Learning and Social Justice addresses the organizational and professional implications of placing learning and social justice at the epicenter of student affairs practice

Illusions of Equality Robert M. Buchanan, 1999 The residential schools for deaf students established in the nineteenth century favored a bilingual approach to education that stressed the use of American Sign Language while also recognizing the value of learning English But the success of this system was disrupted by the rise of oralism with its commitment to teaching deaf children speech and its ban of sign language Buchanan depicts the subsequent ramifications in sobering terms most deaf students left school with limited educations and abilities that qualified them for only marginal jobs He also describes the insistence of the male hierarchy in the deaf community on defending the tactics of individual responsibility through the end of World War II a policy that continually failed to earn job security for Deaf workers BOOK JACKET Vulnerable Adults and Community Care Keith Brown,2010-10-27 This book supports busy practitioners studying on the Post Qualifying Awards for Social Work with Adults Fully updated to cover the latest legislation the material in this book is presented as a series of self contained chapters written by different authors which takes the reader beyond pure facts and offers many differing and thought provoking viewpoints The text is packed with helpful tips and really encourages readers to engage with their client groups and to reflect upon practice in a more meaningful way Voicing Consent Teela Sanders,Jane Scoular,Barbara G. Brents,Susie Balderston,Gillian Abel,2025-02-07 This open access book draws on an international research project using extensive and multiple methods to explore unwanted sexual contact and violence in sex work populations A project delivered by a large team of sex workers peer researchers and academics and with practitioner input over a four year period the central question they explore is how do social legal and judicial contexts shape the safety and well being of people engaging in sex work The book compares survey and interview data conducted in 2023 across four different legal environments legalisation Nevada USA criminalisation Northern Ireland decriminalisation New Zealand and partial criminalisation UK It explores how the interaction between legal consciousness how people in sex work interpret law consent their rights and how or whether to report legal norms legal theory case rulings legal codes and legal practices what police lawyers and judges actually do affects unwanted contact against sex workers This book advances understanding of the various layers regulating sexual autonomy for marginalised peoples the specific factors that impact the negotiation experiences and disposition of crimes of sexual violence in different socio legal contexts Why I Burned My Book and Other Essays on Disability Paul K.
