Africa Counts:

Africa Counts Claudia Zaslavsky, 1999-04-01 This fascinating study of mathematical thinking among sub Saharan African peoples covers counting in words and in gestures measuring time distance weight and other quantities manipulating money and keeping accounts number systems patterns in music poetry art and architecture and number magic and taboos African games such as mankala and elaborate versions of tic tac toe show how complex this thinking can be An invaluable resource for students teachers and others interested in African cultures and multiculturalism this third edition is updated with an introduction covering two decades of new research in the ethnomathematics of Africa Africa Counts Claudia Zaslavsky, 1990 Study by a mathematical scholar on the ways in which African people count keep time and records play games use geometry in art and architecture etc Based on research in Nigeria and East Africa Africa Open Data for Environment, Agriculture and Land (DEAL) and Africa's Great Green Wall Sacande, M., Guarnieri, L., Maniatis, D., Marchi, G., Martucci, A., Mollicone, D., Morales, C., Oubida, W.R. and Sanchez Paus Diaz, A., 2022-07-22 The Africa Open DEAL and Africa's Great Green Wall initiative is a first of its kind collection of accurate comprehensive and harmonized African land use and land use change data It provides a detailed panorama of land use and change across the entire continent and countries captured through more than 300 000 sampling points taken from very high resolution satellite imagery using FAO's Collect Earth tools This land report is a collective effort of more than 350 African experts Using maps and statistics generated from the assessments the report elaborates future prospects of land use change in a comprehensive and accessible format Key findings indicate that land restoration for livelihoods biodiversity and carbon capture is achievable in Africa in view of multiple large scale initiatives and countries commitments including restoration targets of 100 million ha for GGW Sahel 100 million ha for the AFR100 both by 2030 and another 200 million ha for the Pan African Agenda on Ecosystem Restoration Successfully restored lands in the Sahel under GGW would have a profound positive effect on the climate of the whole region potentially doubling the amount of rainfall or decreasing summer temperatures throughout much of Northern Africa and as far as the Mediterranean FAO and the AUC remain committed to working with member countries African institutions and partners to leverage digital technologies to fast track data on land use change and restoration efforts on the continent Africa Open DEAL data are embedded within FAO's Hand in Hand Initiative geo spatial platform and are accessible to anyone through EarthMap.org Africa Air University (U.S.). Library, 1972 The Imperial Curriculum J. Mangan, 2012-05-04 This volume presents the first comparative analysis of racial attitudes in the formal schooling of both Britain and its former dominions and colonies The various contributions examine the issue right across the British imperial experience with case studies ranging from Canada Ireland East and South Africa through the Indian subcontinent to Australia and New Zealand Racial indoctrination is considered from the perspective of both colonizer and colonized The central theme throughout is that a racial hierarchy was taught through both curriculum and text in schools throughout the former British Empire

Statistical Tragedy in Africa? Morten Jerven, Deborah Johnston, 2017-10-02 What do we know about economic development in Africa The answer is that we know much less than we would like to think This collection assesses the knowledge problem present in statistics on poverty agriculture labour education health and economic growth While diverse in origin the contributors to this book are unified in two conclusions the quality and quantity of data needs to be improved and this is a concern not just for statisticians Weaknesses in statistical methodology and practice can misinform policy makers international agencies donors the private sector and the citizens of African countries themselves This is also a problem for academics from various disciplines from history and economics to social epidemiology and education policy Not only does academic work on Africa regularly use flawed data but many problems encountered in surveys challenge common academic abstractions By exploring these flaws this book will provide a guide for scholars policy makers and all those using and commissioning surveys in Africa This book was originally published as a special issue of The Journal of Development Studies

The Afrocentricity Trajectories of Looting in South Africa Mbulaheni Obert Maguvhe, Mfundo Mandla Masuku, Sifiso Ndlovu, Dalifa Ngobese, 2023-03-20 Looting has become an increasingly popular concept in South Africa as an unsophisticated interpretation of ownership by force of property during periods of mayhem However looting is a complex concept whose origin spans a long history that cuts across time and space In The Afrocentricity Trajectories of Looting in South Africa edited by Mfundo Masuku Dalifa Ngobese Mbulaheni Obert Maguvhe and Sifiso Ndlovu contributors provide sophisticated analysis on the concept of looting and address nuances in the concept of looting looking at links to spiraling inequality and poverty racialization of property ownership and skewed access and benefits of economic policies As shown in this collection looting has taken on a variety of political meanings a challenge to the violence of racial capitalism an alternative and accelerated path to justice and a way to call attention to the reality of racial violence that is often ignored by the media to name a few This volume provides a critical analysis of looting from a multi disciplinary approach that focuses on a combination of themes to show that looting is deeply rooted in property ownership and spiraling poverty and inequality that is structural in nature

The Political Economy of AIDS in Africa Nana K. Poku, 2017-07-05 Sub Saharan Africa is a region devastated by HIV AIDS The extent of the epidemic is only now becoming clear as increasing numbers of people with HIV are becoming ill In the absence of massively expanded prevention treatment and care efforts the AIDS death toll on the continent is set to escalate rapidly Despite progress being achieved in localized settings the alarming statistics reflect the continuing failure of advanced countries to mount a response that matches the scale and severity of the African HIV AIDS crisis Over and above the colossal personal suffering the dire social and economic consequences for fragile nation states are already being felt not only in health but in education industry agriculture transport human resources and economies in general Countries already crippled by drought poverty debt forced migration and civil war must now contend with massive deterioration in child survival rates and life expectancy the erosion of the economic family base massive and insupportable demands on health and public services chronic labour shortages and volatile national security Through a critical and detailed exploration of specific case studies this invaluable volume brings together an unparalleled array of international contributors to redefine the political and economic contours of this calamitous epidemic It examines the impact of the shortfalls in the Global Fund allocation the slow pace of administrative processing of aid and the weaknesses of institutional responses to the crisis from African countries and their partners in the global health community It is essential reading for all concerned with public health epidemiology HIV AIDS research globalization development Africa and indeed our shared future Features include Unique assessments of HIV AIDS and its impact on democracy and governance in African states Wide ranging regional and country studies by the foremost thinkers in their fields Multi disciplinary contributions from areas including Politics Sociology Public Health and Development Studies Compelling and convincing evidence thematic in approach Innovative and culturally specific insights for long term planning care and support
