Adoption Race And Identity From Infancy Through Adolescence:

Adoption, Race, and Identity , Adoption Race and Identity is a long range study of the impact of interracial adoption on those adopted and their families Initiated in 1972 it was continued in 1979 1984 and 1991 Cumulatively these four phases trace the subjects from early childhood into young adulthood This is the only extended study of this controversial subject Simon and Altstein provide a broad perspective of the impact of transracial adoption and include profiles of the families involved in the study They explore and compare the experiences of both the parents and the children They identify families whose adoption experiences were problematic and those whose experiences were positive Finally the study looks at the insights the experience of transracial adoption brought to the adoptive parents and what advice they would pass on to future parents adopting children from different racial backgrounds They include the reflections of those adopted included in the 1972 first phase who are now adults themselves This second edition includes a new concluding chapter that updates the fourth and last phase of the study The authors were able to locate 88 of the 96 families who participated in the 1984 study Bringing together all four phases of this twenty year study into one volume gives the reader a richer and deeper understanding of what the experience of transracial adoption has meant for the parents the adoptees and children born into the families studied This landmark work will be of compelling interest to social workers policy makers and professionals and families involved on all sides of interracial adoption Rita J Simon is university professor in the School of Public Affairs at the Washington College of Law at American University She is editor of the journal Gender Issues and author of The American Jury The Insanity Defense A Critical Assessment of Law and Policy in the Post Hinckley Era with David Aaronson In the Golden Land A Century of Russian and Soviet Jewish Immigration Social Science Data and Supreme Court Decisions with Rosemary Erickson and Abortion Statutes Policies and Public Attitudes the World Over Howard Altstein a professor in the School of Social Work at the University of Maryland is the co author of Intercountry Adoption A Multinational Perspective He has also collaborated with Rita Simon on their twenty year study of transracial adoption Adoption, Race, and Identity William Laufer,2017-09-04 Adoption Race and Identity is a long range study of the impact of interracial adoption on those adopted and their families Initiated in 1972 it was continued in 1979 1984 and 1991 Cumulatively these four phases trace the subjects from early childhood into young adulthood This is the only extended study of this controversial subject Simon and Altstein provide a broad perspective of the impact of transracial adoption and include profiles of the families involved in the study They explore and compare the experiences of both the parents and the children They identify families whose adoption experiences were problematic and those whose experiences were positive Finally the study looks at the insights the experience of transracial adoption brought to the adoptive parents and what advice they would pass on to future parents adopting children from different racial backgrounds They include the reflections of those adopted included in the 1972 first phase who are now adults themselves This second edition includes a new concluding chapter that updates the fourth and last phase of the study The authors were able to locate 88 of the 96 families who participated in the 1984 study Bringing together all four phases of this twenty year study into one volume gives the reader a richer and deeper understanding of what the experience of transracial adoption has meant for the parents the adoptees and children born into the families studied This landmark work will be of compelling interest to social workers policy makers and professionals and families involved on all sides of interracial adoption

Adoption, Race, & Identity Rita James Simon, Howard Altstein, 2002 Adoption Race and Identity is a long range study of the impact of interracial adoption on those adopted and their families Initiated in 1972 it was continued in 1979 1984 and 1991 Cumulatively these four phases trace the subjects from early childhood into young adulthood This is the only extended study of this controversial subject Simon and Altstein provide a broad perspective of the impact of transracial adoption and include profiles of the families involved in the study They explore and compare the experiences of both the parents and the children They identify families whose adoption experiences were problematic and those whose experiences were positive Finally the study looks at the insights the experience of transracial adoption brought to the adoptive parents and what advice they would pass on to future parents adopting children from different racial backgrounds They include the reflections of those adopted included in the 1972 first phase who are now adults themselves This second edition includes a new concluding chapter that updates the fourth and last phase of the study The authors were able to locate 88 of the 96 families who participated in the 1984 study Bringing together all four phases of this twenty year study into one volume gives the reader a richer and deeper understanding of what the experience of transracial adoption has meant for the parents the adoptees and children born into the families studied This landmark work will be of compelling interest to social workers policy makers and professionals and families involved on all sides of interracial adoption Rita J Simon is university professor in the School of Public Affairs at the Washington College of Law at American University She is editor of the journal Gender Issues and author of The American Jury The Insanity Defense A Critical Assessment of Law and Policy in the Post Hinckley Era with David Aaronson In the Golden Land A Century of Russian and Soviet Jewish Immigration Social Science Data and Supreme Court Decisions with Rosemary Erickson and Abortion Statutes Policies and Public Attitudes the World Over Howard Altstein a professor in the School of Social Work at the University of Maryland is the co author of Intercountry Adoption A Multinational Perspective He has also collaborated with Rita Simon on their twenty year study of transracial adoption

Adoption, Race, and Identity Rita J. Simon, Howard Altstein, 1992-04-30 Adoption Race and Identity examines the innovative placement of nonwhite predominantly black adoptees with white parents In addition to reviewing recent court decisions involving race as a factor in child custody authors Rita Simon and Howard Altstein examine the research to date on this topic including adoption policy and practice as carried out by some adoption agencies Although there are a few anecdotal portraits of typical situations the work is almost exclusively devoted to actual responses to questions about the experiences of these families based on a longitudinal study that began in 1971 The authors conclude that the majority of families and their adopted children are well integrated into society and that the adoptees now as adolescents do not see themselves as any less black than their in racially raised peers Chapters 1 and 2 examine the historical and legal background of transracial adoption The authors discuss numbers and trends founding social movements agency practices and the legal status of transracial adoption over the past forty years They present the arguments by the National Association of Black Social Workers against the practice and responses offered by various adoption networks Chapter 3 details the authors research method for the study of families and their transracial adoptees and integrates a review of the research literature The following chapter provides demographic and social psychological data on the 200 families involved in the study and examines their stated reasons for adopting Chapters 5 and 6 evaluate the responses to the study by parents and by adoptees and their siblings Chapter 7 reviews the families experiences from both the parents and children s perspectives and Chapters 8 and 9 discuss problem families and ordinary families respectively The work closes with an examination of alternative forms of child placement a discussion of social policy and suggestions for future research and practice This study will prove valuable to social workers adoption agencies and scholars and practitioners in related fields
