Campbell's message will help today's parents explore how to really love their adult child in today's changing world. The book includes brief sidebars from parents of adult children and adult children themselves with their own stories. An online study guide will also be available.

Parenting Your Adult Child Gary Chapman, Ross Campbell, 1999-01-11 Parenting doesn't end at 18. Has your nest not emptied? Has your adult child made lifestyle choices you don't agree with? Has becoming an adult in law made you consider becoming an outlaw? Many parents today answer an exasperating yes to these and many other questions that describe the frustration encountered between them and their adult children. Parenting no longer ends at 18 yet very few resources are available to help parents better communicate with their child who is no longer a child. Ross Campbell and Gary Chapman, authors of The Five Love Languages of Children, have teamed up again to bring us another tool for parenting. They will help you deal with such issues as helping your child find success dealing with anger when adult children return with their children, religious choices, and positive parental love. You can survive this stage in your life. And with the excellent advice from Drs. Campbell and Chapman, you can even enjoy it.

Raising a Responsible Child: Elizabeth Ellis, 1996-01-01 It has often been said: Give a man a fish and he has food for a day. Teach him to fish and he can provide for himself over a lifetime. Raising a Responsible Child explains the phenomenon of the overindulgent parent who helps and protects too much and the underdeveloped child who never really learns to stand on his or her own feet. Today many parents are especially prone to shower their children with love and attention and attempt to minimize stress by doing for them. In the scurry of modern life, parents often can't resist giving in to children's demands or solving their problems just to keep the peace. While this is basically a loving approach, it does not teach children how to be responsible and independent. Parents learn the hard way that their overindulgence does more harm than good: their children will only come to them with more demands and act helpless in the face of new problems. If you find yourself entrenched in this pattern, you can change by using a system of consistent, straight-forward and logical rules every day. You can teach your children to take responsibility for their actions and earn their privileges, and you will find, perhaps to your surprise, that they are willing and ready to do so. Some of the issues this book will help you to deal with are: The whiny and overly demanding preschooler; The small child who throws tantrums in public to get his way; The older child who is inconsiderate of family members; The teenager who is constantly late for school; The young adult who can't get her life together and mooches off her parents indefinitely. Many parents discover that the tried and true methods detailed here not only help their children handle emotions in a more mature and constructive manner but also result in higher self-esteem and a happier outlook on life.

50 Rules Kids Won't Learn in School Charles J. Sykes, 2007-08-21 Equips parents to help tween or teenage children find success in life beyond school, fleshed out in punchy, chuckle-worthy commentary. Publishers Weekly: Charles J. Sykes offers fifty life lessons not included in the self-esteem-laden reality-light curriculum of most schools. Here are truths about what kids will encounter in the world post-schooling and ideas for how parents can reclaim lost ground not with pep talks and touchy-feely negotiations but with honesty and respect. Sykes's rules are frank funny and tough minded including 1 Life is not fair Get used to it 7 If you think your teacher is tough wait until you get a boss He doesn't have tenure so he tends to be a bit edgier When you screw up he's not going to ask you how you FEEL about it 15 Flipping burgers is not beneath your dignity Your grandparents had a different word for burger flipping They called it opportunity 42 Change the oil 43 Don't let the success of others depress you 48 Tell yourself the story of your life Have a point Each rule is explored with wise pithy examples that parents grandparents and teachers can use to help children help themselves succeed in school and out of it A few rules kids won't learn in school 9 Your school may have done away with winners and losers Life hasn't 14 Looking like a slut does not empower you 29 Learn to deal with hypocrisy 32 Television is not real life 38 Look people in the eye when you meet them 47 You are not perfect and you don't have to be 50 Enjoy this while you can

All Grown Up Celia Dodd, 2022-06-09 When children grow up and become adults we often assume as parents that our job is done In fact it's just the beginning of a whole new stage in our lifelong connection Relationships with adult children are an aspect of parenting that is rarely discussed yet they require thoughtfulness and empathy and can bring many new challenges How can you avoid conflict when your adult child returns to live with you What if you don't get on with their partner How should you support your child through a divorce or mental health challenges later in life Do you have mixed feelings about looking after your grandchildren What if you adult children don't get along All Grown Up draws on the personal experiences of parents as well as advice from leading experts in the field to offer support and guidance on working through these common dilemmas to develop and maintain a close bond with your adult child Discover how to create family harmony and a strong enduring connection
