John James Quinn

Africa And The International Political System:

Africa and the International Political System Lawrence Baraebibai Ekpebu, Mabel I. E. Ekwierhoma, 1999 Africa and the International Political System Timothy M. Shaw, Sola Ojo, 1982 International Relations in Contemporary Africa Michael O. Anda, 2000 Although developing countries far outnumber fully industrialized states they are often neglected in the study of international relations especially with respect to the development of foreign policy theory International Relations in Contemporary Africa attempts to fill this void in the literature on comparative international relations while at the same time providing a detailed analysis of the economic development and integration of West African countries Michael Anda specifically focuses on the members of the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS and their policies which encourage coordination on issues ranging from science and technology to diplomacy and mutual defense Tracing the diplomatic history of West Africa from independence to the present he assesses the various dimensions of cooperation among the smaller and less developed states of West Africa while revealing the precarious nature of the economy and security in the region Both detailed and comprehensive International Relations in Contemporary Africa represents a significant contribution to African studies that appeal to those with an interest in the foreign policy of smaller states Africa and the International System Christopher S. Clapham, 1996-09-12 Paying for the state Political Science in Africa, 2023-12-28 Bringing together African and international scholars this book gives an account of the present state of the discipline of political science in Africa generating insights into its present and future trajectories and assessing the freedom with which it is practiced Tackling subjects including the decolonization of the discipline political scientists as public intellectuals and the teaching of political science this diverse range of perspectives paints a detailed picture of the impact and relevance of the political science discipline on the continent during the struggles for democratization and the influence it continues to exert today Africa and the Formation of the New System of International Relations Alexey M. Vasiliev, Denis A. Degterev, Timothy M. Shaw, 2021-09-16 This book discusses the prospects for the development of the African continent as part of the emerging system of international relations in the twenty first century African countries are playing an increasingly important part in the current system of international relations Nevertheless even 60 years after gaining their independence most of them are confronted with regional and global issues that are directly related to their colonial past and its influence Due to Africa's wealth of natural and geopolitical resources the possibility of interference in the internal affairs of African countries on the part of new and traditional global actors remains very real Leading Africanists together with international scholars from both international relations and African studies examine the experience of decolonization the impact of the emergence of a unipolar world on the African continent and the growing influence of new international actors on the African continent in the twenty first century In addition the importance of African countries foreign policy concepts and ideological attitudes in the post bipolar period is revealed This volume strengthens the intellectual bridge between Russian African and Western scholars of international relations Strongly recommended Vladimir G Shubin Institute for African Studies Russian Academy of Sciences This book presents a wide range of prominent global scholars who bring a wealth of knowledge on the subject of Africa and the world Gilbert Khadiagala Jan Smuts Professor of International Relations and Director of the African Centre for the Study of the USA ACSUS at the University of the Witwatersrand Johannesburg South Africa As a genuine contribution to the field of international relations and Global South Agency this book should be in every institution of higher education s library Lembe Tiky Director of Academic Development International Studies Association The International Politics of Africa's Strategic Minerals Oye

Ogunbadejo,2016-10-06 This important study examines the role of Africa s strategic mineral resources in global defense and in the international economic system Beginning with an overview of the situation as a whole the author discusses the role of transnational corporations in the exploitation of Africa s mineral resources and explains the implications of the theories of Matthew Effect dependency core periphery and imperialism Among the issues Ogunbadejo considers are the political economy of strategic minerals the political significance of American European and Soviet dependence on these minerals vis a vis their relations with the producer nations and the impact of geopolitical considerations on U S South African relations Africa's Challenge to International Relations Theory K. Dunn,T. Shaw,2001-02-20 Africa has been noticeably absent in international relations theory This new collection of essays by contemporary Africanists convincingly demonstrates the importance of the continent to every theoretical approach in international relations This collection breaks new ground in how we think about both international relations and Africa re examining such foundational concepts as sovereignty the state and power critically investigating the salience of realism neo liberalism liberalism in Africa and providing new thinking about regionalism security and identity Africa and the International Criminal Court Gerhard Werle,Lovell Fernandez,Moritz

Vormbaum,2014-09-09 The book deals with the controversial relationship between African states represented by the African Union and the International Criminal Court This relationship started promisingly but has been in crisis in recent years The overarching aim of the book is to analyze and discuss the achievements and shortcomings of interventions in Africa by the International Criminal Court as well as to develop proposals for cooperation between international courts domestic courts outside Africa and courts within Africa For this purpose the book compiles contributions by practitioners of the International Criminal Court and by role players of the judiciary of African countries as well as by academic experts Global

Geopolitical Power and African Political and Economic Institutions John James Quinn,2015-12-30 Global Geopolitical Power and African Political and Economic Institutions When Elephants Fight describes the emergence and nature of the prevailing African political and economic institutions in two periods In the first most countries adopted political and economic institutions that funneled significant levels of political and economic power to the political elites usually through one or no party military political systems inward oriented development policies and or state led and often state owned industrialization In the second period most countries adopted institutions that diluted the overarching political and economic power of ruling elites through the adoption of de jure multiparty electoral systems more outward oriented trade policies and the privatization of many state owned or controlled sectors though significant political and economic power remains in their hands The choices made in each period were consistent with prevailing ideas on governance and development the self interests of political elites and the perceived availability of support or autonomy vis vis domestic regional and international sources of power at the time This book illustrates how these two region wide shifts in prevailing political and economic institutions and practices of Africa can be linked to two prior global geopolitical realignments the end of WWII with the ensuing American and Soviet led bipolar system and the end of the Cold War with American primacy Each period featured changed or newly empowered international and regional leaders with competing national priorities within new intellectual and geopolitical climates altering the opportunities and constraints for African leaders in instituting or maintaining particular political and economic institutions or practices The economic and political institutions of Africa that emerged did so as a result of a complex mix of contending domestic regional and international forces material and intellectual all which were themselves greatly transformed in the wake of these two global geopolitical realignments
